

Cass Samms - Arthropodo (detail)

My billboard is a photographic detail of a small sculpture made from lead. The form is based on an insect and comes from the body of work "arthropoda".

The composition of the image is very simple, taking into consideration the length of time one looks at road signage as they are driving past. The form is also of a slightly abstract nature being something that can be repeatedly viewed, provoking questions as to it's origins of form.
